Americans Help Open Anti-U.S. 'Tribunal'

STOCKHOLM, May 2 (AP) — Two Americans criticized U.S. policy in Vietnam today at the "International War Crimes Tribunal" set up by Lord Bertrand Russell.

The two are Gabriel Kolko, an associate professor of history at the University of Pennsylvania, and Samuel Rosenwein, a New York lawyer described as a specialist in international law.

Russell was absent as the proceedings started in a Stockholm hall before about 200 newsmen and 250 spectators.

The 94-year-old British earl, philosopher and pacifist remained at his home in Wales. He presented through his American secretary, Ralph Schoenmen, a statement declaring "the world is numbed by the arrogant brutality of the United States government."

"The United States government is beginning an enormous new onslaught against the people of Vietnam," Russell charged.

Kolko told the gathering "the intervention of the North in South Vietnam is a myth and the American buildup in Vietnam is a violation of the Geneva accords of 1954."

Rosenwein also touched, time and again, on what he called American violation of the Geneva accords.

Three more Americans sat on the "tribunal" panel. They were: Carl Oglesby, a playwright and novelist; Dave Dellinger, editor of the Pacificist magazine, Liberation, and Courland Cox, a member of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), who was said to be representing SNCC leader Stokely Carmichael.

Presiding was Jean Paul Sartre, a French author. "Never since the Nuerenberg trials—for Nazi leaders after World War II—has a tribunal such as this been so necessary," Sartre said.

"We are here as jurors, not judges, to investigate whether the accusations against the United States of having committed war crimes in Vietnam are correct. But we have no power to condemn or acquit. There will be no indictment. The peoples of the world will judge the conclusions we arrive at here."

The session was quiet and orderly. Outside the hall a handful of youths, never more than 10, demonstrated against the proceedings. They carried signs such as "Tribunal: Humbug, Communist-directed deceit."

(Roland Huntford of the London Observer noted from Stockholm that even those who presumably stand to profit from the "tribunal" so far seem faintly embarrassed by it.

[Chinese representatives have kept in the background, and the half dozen North Vietnamese and Vietcong sent to testify have lacked the arrogance, said Huntford, which they normally show on visits to Scandinavia.]

Cincinnati airtel to Bureau, dated 4/28/67.

Referenced Boston airtel notes information from a Boston source to the effect that Subject was reportedly located with the Radical Education Project (REP) at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Boston letter requested Detroit to alert sources to determine if Subject was still with REP.

It is noted that extensive prior investigation was conducted by Detroit concerning Subject who is an individual well-known to Detroit sources and informants. In related investigations it has been determined that while Subject was involved with the initiation of the REP project and has regularly been listed as a member of the REP "staff", he has not been physically located at Ann Arbor, Michigan, since REP project was established at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan. REP continues operation at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and no information has been developed by Detroit informants to indicate Subject's presence at the University of Michigan or at Ann Arbor, Michigan, since he assumed employment at Antioch College, September, 1966.

[redacted] University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, previously described himself as a friend and associate of the Subject. He has furnished reliable information in the past and his identity should be protected at his request. [redacted] advised SA J. RAYMOND COGHLAN on May 15 and June 5, 1967, that Subject has had a book entitled "Containment and Change" published by Mc Millan and Company as part of a series of Union Theological Seminary. He is presently working on a second book, presumably under commission, which concerns itself with BERTRAND RUSSELL, the British pacifist, or with the crime tribunal initiated by RUSSELL.

activities protesting the war in Vietnam and has been a featured speaker at many of these demonstrations. Scheer has been very active politically and in June, 1966, was defeated in a primary election for Congressman from the 7th Congressional District of California. His campaign manager in this unsuccessful attempt was Carl Bloice, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, USA. Scheer has traveled extensively and in 1960 he visited Cuba. He was an official in the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, a pro-Castro organization which is now defunct. During one of his visits to Prague, Czechoslovakia, Scheer reportedly met with representatives of the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong).

OBSERVATIONS:

In view of our friendly relations with Senator Bennett, it is believed advisable to comply with his request for information concerning Oglesby and Scheer; however, it is not believed we should furnish him such data by letter. It is believed additional pertinent information of interest to Senator Bennett should be furnished to him orally; therefore, the following recommendations are made:

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the attached letter in response to Senator Bennett's 11-13-67 communication be approved and returned to your (Mr. Bishop's) office for delivery to Senator Bennett.
2. That someone from your (Mr. Bishop's) office personally deliver the attached letter to Senator Bennett and furnish him pertinent information contained herein concerning Oglesby and Scheer.

My dear Senator:

In reply to your letter of November 13th, I regret I am unable to furnish the specific information you are seeking since data in our files must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice; however, you may be interested in the following facts concerning the Students for a Democratic Society.

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. This association of young people has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status and denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam. It also seeks to "radically transform" the university community and provide for its complete control by students.

Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed on May 14, 1965, by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us."

Interview of subject not being recommended by the Cincinnati Division in view of the fact subject has been affiliated with Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio. (U)

Also, it is to be noted that subject was interviewed by Bureau Agents on 4/19/67, and 11/3/67, concerning WILLIAM ALLEN HARTZOG (CI 25-19734), a Bureau fugitive, and subject was uncooperative on these occasions. On the latter interview subject stated, "Just put me down in your report as an uncooperative person." On both interviews subject was advised of the provisions of the Federal Harboring Statute. (U)

Eight copies of instant report being designated to the Bureau inasmuch as the Bureau may desire a wider than normal distribution in view of fact subject in recent past being employed as president of SDS and prior to that with a "vital facility". Bureau may also wish to disseminate to CIA in view of subject's foreign travel. (U)

III. ACTIVIST-SCHOLAR-IN-RESIDENCE, ANTIOCH COLLEGE, YELLOW SPRINGS, OHIO

The "Record", an Antioch College newspaper printed weekly in Yellow Springs, Ohio, carried an article titled, "OGLESBY Chosen CG (Community Government) Activist-Scholar", in the September 30, 1966, edition.

According to this article OGLESBY was chosen as the first Activist-Scholar-In-Residence at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio. OGLESBY was to be paid $4,000 for a six months term beginning October, 1966, to conduct seminars on radical political philosophy.

The "Record", supra, dated October 14, 1966, carried an article titled, "OGLESBY Has High Expectations For Seminar On New Left Topics".

According to the article the group areas of stress for the seminar included, "The Conservative Right", "The Radical Tradition", "Corporate Power In The World", "Black Autarky", and "Third World Primers".

According to the article, OGLESBY mentioned that the seminars should help to determine and unify the New Left Policies in future months.

The "Journal Herald", a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Dayton, Ohio area, carried an article titled, "Rebellion Revolves Around Changing the Self", on page 1 of the May 10, 1967, edition.

According to the article the glamour of the New York Peace March (April, 1967) drew some 200 students, however, the more deliberate activities of OGLESBY have not awakened a great interest.

According to this article, subject wrote a book on "Containment and Change", in which he maintains that America needs its Vietnams and is nourished by them. According to this article the war in Vietnam itself is not only the comprehension of the American political fabric but it is a good present investment upon which America's future in the world community critically depends. The article stated corporate capitalism feeds upon the bones of those whom the society possesses; the poor, the colored, and the young. (u)

On May 15, 1967, and June 5, 1967, CI T-10 advised subject has been commissioned to write a second book by the publishing firm of McMillan and Company. This book concerns itself, according to source, with LORD BERTRAND RUSSELL, the British pacifist, and/or with the War Crimes Tribunal. (u)

Contained herein is a series of questions and answers as given on the television program "Impact," WCPO TV, Sunday night, March 19, 1967, at 6:30 p.m. The moderator of the program is ALLEN WHITE, Channel 9 TV News Editor; the panel consists of CARL RUBEN, WILLIAM FLAX, and CHARLES COLLINS; and the guest is CARL PRESTON OGLESBY, JR. The questions are being asked by the moderator and panelists, and the answers given by Mr. OGLESBY.

The program begins with the moderator stating the following:

"At a time when there is so much conflict among minds over the right or the wrong of the United States involvement in Viet Nam, there now comes another force to further promote internal turmoil. This is an offshoot of the anti-Viet Nam policy society and now directed to rallying its own young men of draft age to refuse induction into the armed forces and, as I understand it, on the prime basis that the draft is undemocratic. The young men so far involved identify themselves mainly as members of a nationwide campus organization known as Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). There is a chapter near the University of Cincinnati campus and some members of the UC branch were among the recent demonstrators at the Federal Building in downtown Cincinnati when some of its members refused to be inducted into the services. I was so intrigued by this kind of business that I invited the SDS to send a representative to our 'Impact' program to find out how these people think. That spokesman is here tonight. He is Mr. CARL OGLESBY, a past president of SDS nationally and now a part-time teacher at Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio."

Question: Mr. OGLESBY, I am given to ask you right at the outset, are you a communist?

Answer: No, I rather fancy myself as some kind of conservative.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Question: A conservative. What do you teach at Antioch, Mr. OGLESBY?

Answer: Two classes, both more or less in modern philosophy.

Question: You have long been associated with SDS?

Answer: I worked for about 8 years in the defense business, up until the summer of 1965, when owing to a great many reasons, owing to a great many causes, I found that I couldn't sleep very easily at night unless I put myself more conspicuously in the protest movement against the war, and then I left the defense business, where I held some kind of executive job, and came with Students for a Democratic Society. Then for about a year and a half I was president of the organization and now after that tenure is up, I am at Antioch now under a special visiting lecturers program.

Question: You endorse the feelings of the young men of draft age who refuse to go into the draft. Is that not right?

Answer: Oh, sure, that's very right.

Question: Why?

Answer: Well, you know that involves us immediately in a discussion of what the war in Viet Nam is and it involves us immediately in a discussion of democracy and what the country is.

~~SECRET~~

Question: If we were not at war at this time or involved in any kind of conflict with other nations, Mr. OGLESBY, would you still then say that a young man has a right to balk at being inducted into the armed forces?

Answer: Oh, that's very much the case. The idea that American people were trying to make good here, and they have been trying to make that idea good for a long time, is that whenever you have a state, a super state, developed to such an extent and with such power that it can so wholly manipulate the lives of people, as we find in manipulating such lives in the case of conscripting, forcing people to kill, that then you don't have a very good situation. The state just doesn't have the kind of right, the kind of authority to do to people what the state does in this case.

Question: I would like to pursue for just a moment what you have just suggested, because it is my understanding that the chief distinction between our society and those that have gone before is that we have within ourselves an orderly process for changing this state if we are dissatisfied with it, but that change does not include the right to protest in the streets or to determine which laws we will obey and which ones we will not obey. It does include the right to change the representative members who make these laws. Now why has your group elected not to pursue this method of change?

Answer: Number 1, that method of change seems to have fairly badly broken down with the advent of a certain Texan. The last time that I know of that the American people were consulted about this war in Viet Nam, they were presented with a fairly clear choice. One of those guys was standing up there saying that we shouldn't send American troops half way around the world to do what Vietnamese troops ought to do for themselves, and a fairly famous slogan of that 1964 Presidential campaign was "We seek no wider war." That was one option presented to the American people, democratically. They were supposed to represent their opinions about that. The other choice, represented, I think, quite honestly by BARRY GOLDWATER, whom I consider an honest man, was that the war should be widened. The issue was clear. It was the issue that was the burning one in the 1964 campaign; and in bigger numbers than the American people have ever said anything in a Presidential vote, they voted for that quiet, that drive towards peace, that yearning for reconciliation, that JOHNSON claimed to be speaking for.

Question: Mr. OGLESBY, regardless of whether people agree or don't agree with the present war effort in Viet Nam, certainly it has always been the duty of the young men in the society to bear the brunt of the fighting. This is true in any society, not just the American society, at any time in history, and the draft laws that we have...

Answer: That's not true!

Question: Oh, I think it is true. Certainly we don't...

Answer: Have you ever heard of the draft riots around the time of the Civil War?

Question: I'm not disputing the fact that there have been people who have tried to avoid this duty at various times. I am saying that the burden of defending and fighting for and carrying the flag forward in any society, at any time in history,

~~SECRET~~

CPO-356

has always fallen upon the young manhood. It doesn't fall upon the women, it doesn't fall upon the old men, it doesn't fall upon the children; just by natural circumstances, it falls upon the young manhood of that society, because they're the only ones really who are fit to carry forth the war effort, and because of this unique circumstance, it has always been sort of a moral responsibility on the young manhood to bear the fighting. Now your draft protests, as I understand them, actually go beyond and are not merely aimed at people who might be going immediately to Viet Nam, they're aimed against the whole idea of the military service, defending and carrying forward the interests of the United States of America.

Answer: I think the American people are bright enough to know when their interests need defended.

Question: Well, I don't think this is an individual decision when the society is in a war.

Answer: Well, then who makes the decision?

Question: Why, it is a national decision, and it seems to me that those that do not wish to carry on the fight would have a natural remedy and that is to leave the American society. But if you are going to participate in a society, it seems to me that the young manhood at least has to carry the brunt of the fighting when it is in a war and this has always been so.

Answer: If people believe the war is what JOHNSON describes it as, namely a war to protect the sovereignty of a weak nation that is being invaded by another nation, apparently it's weak but somehow represented as being much stronger. If it is a war for freedom, for democracy, for the sovereignty of states, then I suppose the people will go fight that war because that seems like a just war to fight. When people don't think that that's what the war is all about, then they have to search their consciences and find out whether or not they can submit to this, I should say, rather impudent request for obedience without any questions at all that the state seems to lay onto the people.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Question: The recent ruckus that we had downtown was not a mere matter of a few individuals putting themselves on the block, so to speak, and making a decision that they would not participate and taking the consequences, which I believe could be up to a very stiff term in jail. A sympathetic group gathered and created a major ruckus downtown. There have been other of these ruckuses and, of course, this gets out of the bounds of some individual, evidencing willingness to go to jail as a protest, which we have always had a few people like that, into a major riotous situation which certainly is a seditious situation, which we all have to be concerned with.

Answer: Did you see the demonstration?

Question: No, I didn't see it, I just read the accounts.

Answer: You read the accounts and the accounts convinced you that there was a ruckus, that there was a riot, that there was something seditious going on?

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~
Question: Well, they certainly suggested it. At least two individuals got arrested out of the process.

Answer: Do you know anything about the circumstances under which those individuals were arrested?

Question: Well, I know that at least one of those individuals has been arrested on previous ruckuses around town, and I'm inclined to believe...

Answer: Which one is that?

Question: MICHAEL WOLF, for one, has been arrested in previous...

Answer: In what kind of ruckuses has he been arrested?

Question: Well, for one, trying to block school construction sites, and at another time in a race incitation.

Answer: Why did he try to do that?

Question: It's been a couple of years ago. Because of a race incitation incident, it's interesting that some of your operatives skip around from race incitation to anti-war efforts, to draft rebellions, to all sorts of other...

Answer: Oh, sure, they're all related.

Question: We're going to wind back up on the situation that we've been arguing about for all these years of "Impact" programs, that acts of protest suddenly to you become racial insurrections and...

~~SECRET~~

No, we're talking about one which was validly a racial incident at the time. You say it was an act of protest; it was an act with racial overtones at the time that people carrying out this blockage of other people's labor to build a new school, admitted to avowed racial purposes at the time they did it.

But, BILL, the only reason it had any racial overtones, you know as well as I do, that the school was being built and it was objectionable to the community and it happened to be located in the middle of a Negro community, and certainly the people who were concerned happened to be Negroes.

We're not talking about Negroes here, CHARLIE. We're talking about white SDS operatives who were arrested at this construction site blocking.

Answer: What color they were doesn't happen to make any difference.

Question: The point is that these same people are creating ruckuses and seditious-type situations in different areas of concern whenever the opportunity comes up.

Answer: There's some kind of a relationship in our viewpoint between what happens in Mississippi and what happens in the ghettos of the big Northern cities and what happens in Viet Nam. I just can't imagine that anyone who can think consecutively for two seconds about what American culture is like should see anything peculiar in the fact that someone who is interested in the anti-democratic nature of the war in Viet Nam should also be interested in the anti-democratic nature of the welfare of the state.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Question: We're talking about legal violations of law, we're not talking about somebody who has an opinion...

Answer: Insofar as I know, nobody has ever pinned any legal violations of any law on anybody having to do with these demonstrations.

Question: To the contrary. This is precisely the point.

Answer: There is a charge that is going to be brought against two people and when that charge is heard, then...

Question: May I finish for just a moment here because this is highly significant and I believe the parallel is not necessarily what has been suggested a moment ago. This isn't a racial incident. The parallel here is that people have determined in their own minds which laws they will obey and which laws they won't obey and they're perfectly prepared to take their quarrel into the streets where traditionally the first victim has always been the concept of law. Every society that has permitted this to go on and has allowed its structure to collapse, as a result of the quarrels in the street, inevitably the whole society fell. Now, the parallel between your group and the men that are willing to take all protests, of any sort, into this area, leads me to believe that you're not willing to do this in what we conceive to be an orderly fashion, by law. Now is my analysis correct or have I missed something in your protests?

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Answer: Look, you know there's civil disobedience that from time to time shows up as a protest technique and it shows up under certain fairly definable circumstances. It wasn't used, however, in the draft protest. There was a very peaceable congregation of people carrying around some signs that advertised...

Question: Well, there is at least a difference of opinion on that because there have been arrests made. So somebody didn't agree that it was a peaceful protest.

Answer: Well, I think that people should know a little bit more about those arrests. There were two people trying to pass out some leaflets on the inside of the building and Federal Marshals asked them to leave where they were, and they did. Without raising any question they went into the completely public part of the building. Federal Marshals asked them again to leave that part, and somebody had the terrific unAmerican audacity to say "Why?" at which point two of these guys were thrown up against elevators, beaten and kicked, and finally one of the Federal Marshals, guardian of your democracy, guardian of your law, guardian of your democratic structure, pulls out of his pocket what looks like a fat fountain pen, unclips the end, and douses one of these kids, a freshman at Antioch, with a couple of eyes full of tear gas. He didn't even have the democratic courtesy to tell him, when he was screaming his head off in pain, what it was that hit his eyes, and how long he was going to be blind.

~~SECRET~~

Question: I find it quite significant, Mr. OGLESBY, that you use "your", not "our", but "your". Do you exclude yourself from this society? Is that the conclusion we draw?

Answer: You're quite right. I begin to wonder these days, after JOHNSON, for the most part, violated his mandate, the mandate that he got in 1964 to make peace, I begin to wonder whose America is this. So I don't think it's yours really any more than it is mine. I think ultimately if we talked long enough we would find out that we both have some complaints to make against this taxing...

Question: As against what complaints you may have or may not have against certain politicians, either in the Viet Nam case or in any other case in which your organization has been operating, the fact is that American boys are committed in Viet Nam, they're fighting, they're dying in Viet Nam. America has a responsibility when its young men are committed not to just send out some young men as sacrificial goats; we are committed, as a people, because our young manhood is committed. This is the other side of the coin, just as it falls upon the young manhood of a society to fight its wars, it also falls upon the society to back those men up when they're in war, and the fact is that your organization and kindred organizations that participate in these sort of activities are certainly giving aid and comfort to the enemy, those who are killing our boys, because it creates an image of a lack of support of the war effort, a lack of support of the commitment of the young men who are already over there. It certainly doesn't help their morale any, and it can't fail but to help the morale of their enemies.

BILL, are you suggesting that in spite of the fact that American people might question the morality of something that is done in the name of our government that they don't have a right to object and voice their objections to this action?

They certainly have a right to object. I'm not questioning that. I'm questioning public demonstrations which suggest that the American youth is not backing that segment of American youth which is already committed.

Answer: What kind of conscience would we people have who don't believe the war is a good war, if we just shut our mouths and bite our tongues?

Question: If you don't believe that the selection of drafting people is a fair and equitable one...

Well, now, you have two different problems here, CHARLIE, and I would suggest that you are playing with a very dangerous fire and, of course, I felt this for quite some time, because this gets back to the principle. If you are saying, "we don't agree with this," there is an orderly fashion for you to demonstrate this. It's called an election and it occurs every two years. It's not enough that you have a Presidential election, you have a Congressional election in the off year, for the very reason that you are suggesting. If the majority of American people do not agree with the administration policy, they have a way to change it. This is a far different thing from making your own moral determination as to what is right and wrong and acting it out accordingly.

Answer: Have you ever read anything that's written down in the days when this country is really coming into its heyday? Have you ever read anything that Thomas Jefferson wrote? Do you care what Tom Payne wrote?

Question: Like the Boston Tea Party? What's your explanation of the Boston Tea Party?

The Boston Tea Party was not against the constituted government of the United States.

Answer: That all depends upon which point of view you took. As far as the British...

Question: There was no such thing as the United States...

Answer: As far as the British were concerned...

Question: It was not against the youth of a country who were committed in a bloody war. That's the significant...

Answer: What about the youth of the country who were joining up out of New York City and Boston to fight on the British side in the Revolution?

Question: They committed themselves, so this is my suggestion...if you people don't wish to be committed on the side of your age mates who are fighting and dying, you ought to leave this country and go join the cause of any other country you feel more dedicated to.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Answer: This has always been your solution to the problem, leave the country. It's as much our country as it is your's.

Question: Are you opposing the war in Viet Nam now?

Answer: No, I'm not opposing the war in Viet Nam.

Question: Are you supporting draft strikes and refusals to serve?

Answer: I have some very serious questions about the manner of selecting people for the draft. I think it's unfair to exempt college students from the draft. I think that there are a lot of people who feel this way, but what you and CARL seem to be suggesting that if you happen to be of a minority point of view that you must act, we ask, be quiet, wait until litigation, and so on. I'm suggesting that a minority has as much right to be as vocal.

Question: Vocal, yes?

I think you are missing the point and I can't believe that it is unintentional.

Advocating a violation of the draft laws goes way beyond being vocal.

BILL, I want to divert this thing back to another point. Mr. OGLESBY, you are well aware, are you not, that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is very interested in you and also in the Students for a Democratic Society?

Answer: Yeah, they're charmed it seems.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Question: They're very interested in you.

I would like to quote some things here, it says, this is from Mr. HOOVER, that communists are actively promoting and participating in the activities of your organization, the SDS. They tell of the 1965 parade in Washington to protest Viet Nam; that many known communists were noted among the people who marched in this parade. I don't know if you were there or not. Were you?

Answer: In the October parade?

Question: In the April, 1965, parade in Washington?

Answer: I was at that one, yeah.

Question: Yeah, you were at that one and at the 1965 meeting in Michigan when the anti-draft movement was dedicated.

Answer: No, it wasn't dedicated.

Question: Then it was launched, let's say.

Answer: No, it wasn't really launched either.

Question: There's an SDS stronghold isn't there?

Answer: Yeah, I think ALLEN is talking about a meeting that took place in Kewadin, Michigan.

Question: Kewadin, Michigan, right. That 20 of approximately 100 participants there had past or present affiliations with the Communist Party or other subversive groups. Do you knowingly break bread and sit down with these people who have participated with communist organizations and subversive groups?

Answer: Why not? Are you scared of them?

Question: No, I'm not scared of them. I'm asking you...

Answer: I want to know why you asked me that question...

Question: He is not scared of them but he considers them loathsome and so do the rest of us.

Answer: We all have our views about what is loathsome in the way of people and I just wonder why you could find...

Question: You attended a convention with these people, which leads me to believe that...

Answer: With these people?

Question: That if you attended a convention with these people you undoubtedly had something in common with these people for you all to attend a single convention. I would like to know what this is.

Answer: Very likely, to the extent that I know what they think. Well...never mind even that. I go to the conventions because Students for a Democratic Society is an organization that is talking about things that BOB TAFT used to talk about...about what happens when you get a big government that tells people what to do, about what happens when you get big business that tells people what to do, big unions that tell the workers what to do. I'm talking about freedom when I'm talking to the American people. I'm not asking them whether they think of themselves as socialists or capitalists or communists, or even right-wingers or left-wingers because those terms are dead. I'm asking them whether or not they think that they're fit to govern themselves. And the reason that I'm with SDS is that's the only organization I can see around that's talking about the government of the people, by the people, and for the people. If it turns out that there are some people who are communists who were saved from state centralist Stalinism, and who have decided that what SDS wants to say to the country is better than what communism wants to say to the country, then, good, I'm happy to see them there. I would be happy to see John Birchers come too.

~~SECRET~~

Question: You're connected with the Yellow Springs Peace and Freedom Center, aren't you, at Xenia Avenue and...

Answer: We live in an apartment behind that place and I've borrowed, over the few months that we've been there, two or three pieces of paper from them. That's my connection with them.

Question: That's your total connection with them. How about the Dayton Area Coordinating Committee, which has offices there?

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Answer: That's my sole connection with it, too; a couple of paper clips in that case.

Question: Mr. OGLESBY, I would like to go back for a moment because I'm convinced there is something here that we are just missing. We're not even talking on the same wave length.

Answer: I think that's true.

Question: When you speak in detail of your desire for freedom and, when at the same time you are highly critical of the Viet Nam war, the question immediately comes to my mind, do you really believe that there has been a choice or is this part of an overall conspiracy intended to deny Americans their freedom? Is this an adventure into which we have been thrust by our leaders, totally ignoring our own wishes? Is this the conclusion that you come to?

Answer: Very roughly, yes. I suppose I won't have time to elaborate that position much, but it seems to me again that when JOHNSON said in 1964...read his speeches please... that he wasn't going to send American troops to Viet Nam to do what Vietnamese boys ought to do, and that he wasn't going to bomb the North, and when GOLDWATER said that he was going to send more troops and that he wanted to bomb the North, the American people had a very clear-cut

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

decision to make and they made that decision in a very clear-cut way. Within three months the troops were pouring in, and the bombing of the north had become a daily matter.

Question: Are you suggesting then that we should have withdrawn? Is this what we should have done? If the alternative was either to...

Answer: Of course, it's clear that Viet Nam belongs, if to anybody, to Vietnamese people.

Question: Yeah, but actually what you are saying, carried logically out, is that military decisions in the field, because we already had troops committed in the field in 1964...

Answer: Do you know how many?

Question: Not anything like we have now, but we still had thousands of troops who were actually in Viet Nam already, and you're in effect saying that military decisions in the field should be made according to the voters at election time at the ballot box, and I don't think any responsible political figure in any party in this country has ever narrowed the thing down to anything quite that preposterous. Now there were general policies aired at the election time and general directions stated, but there certainly was no concrete commitment on the part of either party or on the part of either candidate, or on the part of anybody that I know running for any office, to allow the election to permanently bind American military decisions in the field governing the loss or saving of American lives. This is a preposterous opinion.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Answer: Point number 1 is that going from something like 20,000 troops operating in advisory capacities up to half a million troops, and it's probably on its way to a million, and it's probably on its way to an invasion of the North within two or three weeks, doesn't represent the result of a decision about purely military matters made in the military field, and it's preposterous to say so. Point number 2 is certainly the case, that people who are trying to administer a thing as big and as complicated as the United States of America, have to make some important decisions without consultation, but they can't make policy decisions without consultation, otherwise it's just stupid, preposterous to...

Question: You are saying then that the policy decision was made to remove ourselves from Viet Nam and that having been made by the electors in 1964, there was then no choice, we should have removed our troops when it became obvious that to achieve the ends that three Presidents, under three different administrations, had assumed was no longer possible. This is the military decision. Twenty thousand advisors could not preserve South Viet Nam, so the alternative then was x number of American troops, but if I understand what you're saying...

Answer: But you have to look back at what was happening in the State Department.

Question: Let me finish please! You are saying that in 1964 the policy decision was made to remove ourselves from Viet Nam. I am no supporter of Mr. JOHNSON, Mr. CCLESBY, but I doubt strenuously that that was a decision made in 1964.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Answer: Well, CARL, you're just going to have to look back at his speeches and you're going to have to ask yourself what in the world the man was saying to the American people and what in the world the American people thought they were voting for.

Question: When did he say we should withdraw from Viet Nam? I mean when was this statement made?

Answer: He said we're never going to get in there. He said...

Question: But we were already in there.

Mr. OGLESBY, at what point in a series of events would you finally concede to allow a friend of yours, or your son, or even yourself, to be inducted into the armed forces?

Answer: I don't quite understand.

Question: Under no circumstances would you ever concede to a draft?

Answer: To a draft?

Question: Unhuh.

Answer: No.

Question: Even if this country were to be invaded by enemy forces?

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

Answer: If this country were invaded you wouldn't need a draft.

Question: You know, this is remarkably reminiscent of what WILLIAM JENNINGS BRIAN said in 1960.

Answer: What do you think the American people are if they need to be drafted to fight for their freedom, to fight for their country? Do you think they are a bunch of nincompoops and cowards? Give a man a reason to fight and he will fight.

Question: You can't effectively fight overnight. This is the remark made before World War I. A million men will spring to arms overnight. Nonsense! You don't do this. If you really want an effective fighting force, it takes months and perhaps years to train it, and what you're suggesting is that you're not willing that that be done.

Answer: Well, it's kind of a frivolous argument it seems to me that people have to show up at Draft Boards and either you send out the letters to get them there, along with police state coercion techniques, or you depend on their love for their freedom, for their community, for their people, for their values, and, if they have that love, if the state gives them a reason to love it, to feel unitary with it, then they'll come and, if not, they won't.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International at San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

On January 16, 1957, [redacted] advised that the College records reflect that the SDC filed a report September 14, 1956, showing its purpose is "to study and disseminate socialist ideas."

On November 5, 1959, [redacted] advised that the SDC had filed with the Community Government of Antioch College a statement of purpose. She stated that the statement describes the SDC as a weekly discussion group in resource material on the socialist movement. SDC claims membership on the Antioch campus consisted of active participation in these discussion meetings and/or a willingness to assist the Club in arranging programs, speakers, etc. The SDC plans weekly discussions for the coming school quarter, including outside speakers who are invited to make appearances before the Club. SDC claims to have no affiliation with any outside group.

Two sources advised on June 5, 1958, and June 9, 1958, respectively, that the SDC is a local active campus organization at Antioch College formed by students for the purpose of discussing socialism. Each stated that in the past, the SDC has had speakers of various political hue, including persons who were or had been associated with the Communist Party, the Socialist Workers Party, and the Independent Socialist League, but that the organization has also had speakers who were supporters of capitalism and free enterprise. Each source stated further that to his knowledge the SDC is not affiliated with or under the control of any other organization.

On May 22, 1965, [redacted] advised that the SDC continues to be an active group on the Antioch campus.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE

The April 6, 1960, edition of "The New York Times" newspaper contained a full-page advertisement captioned "What Is Really Happening In Cuba," placed by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC). This advertisement announced the formation of the FPCC in New York City and declared the FPCC intended to promulgate "the truth about revolutionary Cuba" to neutralize the distorted American press.

"The New York Times" edition of January 11, 1961, reported that at a hearing conducted before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on January 10, 1961, Dr. Charles A. Santos-Buch identified himself and Robert Taber as organizers of the FPCC. He also testified he and Taber obtained funds from the Cuban Government which were applied toward the cost of the aforementioned advertisement.

On May 16, 1963, a source advised that during the first two years of the FPCC's existence there was a struggle between Communist Party (CP) and Socialist Workers Party (SWP) elements to exert their power within the FPCC and thereby influence FPCC policy. This source added that during the past year there had been a successful effort by FPCC leadership to minimize the role of these and other organizations in the FPCC so that their influence as of May, 1963, was negligible.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

On May 20, 1963, a second source advised that Vincent "Ted" Lee, FPCC National Office Director, was then formulating FPCC policy and had indicated that he had no intention of permitting FPCC policy to be determined by any other organization. This source stated that Lee believed that the FPCC should advocate resumption of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the United States and should support the right of Cubans to manage their revolution without interference from other nations. Lee did not advocate supporting the Cuban revolution per se.

The November 23, 1963, edition of "The New York Times" reported that Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut had called FPCC "the chief public relations instrument of the Castro network in the United States." It is to be noted that Senator Dodd was a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which twice conducted hearings on the FPCC.

FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE (CONT'D)

The December 27, 1963, edition of "The New York World Telegram and Sun" newspaper stated that the pro-Castro FPCC was seeking to go out of business and that its prime activity during its lifetime had been sponsorship of pro-Castro street rallies and mass picket lines, and the direction of an active propaganda mill highlighting illegal travel-to-Cuba campaigns. Its comparatively brief span of life was attributed to mounting anti-Castro American public opinion, the 1962 Congressional hearings which disclosed FPCC financing by Castro's United Nations Delegation, and ultimately, the bad publicity which the FPCC received from disclosure of activities on its behalf by suspected presidential assassin Lee H. Oswald.

On February 6, 1964, the previously mentioned second source advised that V. T. Lee had recently remarked that the FPCC was dead and that there were no plans to organize another similar organization.

On April 13, 1964, a third source advised that there had not been any FPCC activity in many months and that the FPCC had been dissolved.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR DEMOCRATIC RIGHTS

~~SECRET~~

A confidential source advised on August 23, 1961, that an enlarged meeting of the Communist Party, USA, National Executive Committee was held in New York City on June 10-11, 1961, at Communist Party Headquarters, 23 West 26th Street, New York City, New York.

According to the source, the main topic of discussion at this meeting was the Communist Party's plans in regard to combating the June 5, 1961, decision of the U. S. Supreme Court requiring the Communist Party to register with the Attorney General of the United States, as a Communist-action organization, pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950 and the court's decision of the same date, upholding the April 21, 1955, conviction of JUNIUS SCALES under the Smith Act provision covering membership in the Communist Party.

This source further advised that JACK STACHEL, a member of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA, addressed this meeting and spoke on the need of bringing into being a national defense conference on behalf of the Communist Party, USA. STACHEL then listed a number of individuals indicating that they were characteristic of a national body of liberals and progressives, who should be approached and convinced to take the leadership in organizing such a national conference.

The source further stated that as a result of this meeting and other meetings of Communist Party functionaries, the National Assembly for Democratic Rights (NADR) was organized. According to the source, this group has issued a call to action in defense of the Constitution of the United States and the preservation of the Bill of Rights and has scheduled an assembly to be held at St. Nicholas Arena, New York City, on September 23-24, 1961.

The source further advised that a leaflet issued by the NADR announcing this assembly contains a partial list of sponsors of the NADR. Included in this list of individuals are the same individuals mentioned by STACHEL as persons to be contacted in the organizing of such an assembly.

According to the source, the offices of the NADR are located at 118 East 28th Street, Room 703, New York City. JOSEPH BRANDT, who the Communist Party has placed in charge of the dissemination of literature of the NADR, is employed at this office.

A second source on January 31, 1961, identified JOSEPH BRANDT as a member of Club #2 of the Upper West Side Communist Party Section, New York District Communist Party.

A third source made available on August 24, 1961, a leaflet captioned "What Is The National Assembly For Democratic Rights". This leaflet, which states that it was published by the NADR, 118 East 28th Street, New York, New York, reads as follows:

"The National Assembly For Democratic Rights is a single-action undertaking. It is confined to bringing together in NYC, on September 23-24, an all-inclusive gathering--from all parts of the United States--of representatives and supporters of every plea for reversal or non-application of the June 5th decisions of the Supreme Court on the Smith and McCarran Acts. Its object is to rally public opinion and give organized voice to the defense of Constitutional freedoms, especially guaranteed by the First and Fifth Amendments, endangered by these five to four rulings of the Court.

"The National Assembly is being initiated and organized by a number of citizens, each acting as individuals, concerned with the preservation of democratic rights. Sponsorship of this gathering implies no more than agreement with any essential aspect of the dissenting opinions of Chief Justice WARREN or of Justice BLACK, DOUGLAS or BRENNAN on the membership clause of the Smith Act and the registration provisions of the McCarran Act.

"Full and equal participation in the Assembly is open to all who are at least in such minimum agreement in order to register, in concert, the desire of those for whom they may speak, that all branches of the Government should withhold application of these repressive measures by whatever means are within their power. No further commitment is required as a condition for participation, nor is it to be implied by virtue of taking part in this gathering. Neither is it intended that the Assembly shall entertain any resolutions or decision bearing upon controversy or differences among its constituents about any other matter.

"The National Assembly for Democratic Rights is not a permanent or continuing organization. Rather than enrolling a membership of its own, it will count upon revitalized activity by all groups devoted to constitutional liberties, and upon greater unity of effort amongst them, to carry forward the necessary work in defense of democratic rights.

"After adjournment of the National Assembly, its sponsors may choose to intensify their efforts--each in his own way--through existing permanent organizations, to achieve the purposes for which we shall have met, hopeful that our gathering may have awakened the conscience of our country and helped rouse it to save its democratic heritage and future."

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, documents the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee as follows:

"To defend the cases of Communist lawbreakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the ***Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire, these fronts offer a bulwark of protection."

(KEY ACTIVISTS)

During your investigations of organizations which fall under the category of "new left" organizations, you have furnished information indicating that certain individuals in the Students for a Democratic Society and anti-Vietnam war groups are extremely active and most vocal in their statements denouncing the United States and calling for civil disobedience and other forms of unlawful and disruptive acts. These individuals, because of their leadership roles and activities in these organizations, could be considered to be Key Activists.

Airtel to SAC, Boston
(KEY ACTIVISTS)
100-446997

At this time, the Bureau is designating the following individuals as Key Activists in the "new left" movement:
New York, [redacted] Jerry Clyde b6
Rubin, [redacted] Chicago, [redacted] Davidson, b7C
[redacted] Boston,
[redacted] Cincinnati,
Carl Preston Oglesby; Cleveland, [redacted] San Francisco,
Mario Robert Savio, [redacted] Newark, David Dellinger, Thomas Emmett Hayden.

Of this group, the following are not on the Security Index: [redacted] b6
[redacted] b7C

The offices handling these individuals are instructed to immediately reopen their investigations concerning them and submit reports together with a recommendation concerning their Security Index status. When considering these individuals for the Security Index, particular attention should be placed to current Bureau instructions on page 45, Section 87D, of the Manual of Instructions concerning the Security Index criteria and especially Item (C).

Furthermore, an intensive investigation of each of the above-mentioned individuals should immediately be initiated with the objective of developing detailed and complete information regarding their day-to-day activities and future plans for staging demonstrations and disruptive acts directed against the Government. Because of their leadership and prominence in the "new left" movement, as well as the growing militancy of this movement, each office must maintain high-level informant coverage on these individuals so that the Bureau is kept abreast of their day-to-day activities as well as the organizations they are affiliated with, to develop information regarding their sources of funds, foreign contacts, and future plans.

In the event adequate live informant coverage is not immediately available on these individuals, other types of coverage such as technical surveillances and physical surveillances should be considered as a temporary measure to establish the necessary coverage.

(KEY ACTIVIST)
100-446997

Each recipient office in which a Key Activist resides is instructed to submit a separate letter to the Bureau within 30 days from the date of this communication under the caption of each individual outlining what steps have been made to insure adequate informant coverage of these individuals.

Each recipient office is also instructed to remain alert for the addition of any individuals in their respective territories which would warrant intensified investigation and who fit the Key Activist category and submit their recommendations to the Bureau. In the future, when submitting communications concerning the individuals designated as Key Activists, these words should be added after the character except on communications such as reports and LHM's which will be disseminated outside of the Bureau. This will facilitate handling these cases at the Bureau. Reports should also be submitted to the Bureau every six months concerning these Key Activists.

This matter is being closely followed by the Bureau and you are expected to give the investigation of them individual continuous attention.

NOTE:

Item (C) on page 45 of Section 87D of the Manual of Instructions states that consideration should be given to placing those persons on the Security Index who have anarchistic or revolutionary beliefs and are likely to seize upon the opportunity presented by a national emergency to endanger the public safety as shown by overt actions and statements within the past three years.

Re Boston airtel to Director 2/15/68. ✓

[redacted] Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., an established source whose identity should be protected because of his position, was recontacted by SA [redacted] on 2/29 and 3/5/68, at which time he advised that subject has continued as Resident Fellow in the Tucker Foundation, Dartmouth, and to reside on Choate Road, in Dartmouth College Faculty apartments.

He said subject continued to exert a sobering and modifying influence on activists among the students, exhorting them to "play it cool" and not to engage in any activities which might alienate others. He has stated he is at Dartmouth not to antagonize but to win friends; that his presence on the campus has been most helpful to him and the college administration in maintaining order. He is still expected to depart by the end of the Winter Term, 3/15/68; however, he actually would like for him to stay for another term in view of the above. [redacted] said he had been unable to obtain any information as to OGLESBY's plans for the future.

Recent events on college campuses point out the anarchistic and revolutionary posture being assumed by the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and other new left elements.

As a result of these developments, it is incumbent upon the Bureau to redouble its efforts in penetrating those groups which have spearheaded the attacks on our established institutions.

The subject was designated as a key activist in reBuairtel as a result of his leadership activity in the SDS. Instructions as to the handling of this investigation were issued at that time.

You were instructed to review your investigation and to submit a letter outlining the coverage available and that if this coverage was found to be inadequate to outline the steps you were taking to rectify the situation. This has not been done.

You should promptly conduct this review and advise the Bureau of the live day-to-day coverage available. If inadequate, you should state the steps being taken to improve it.

REC-114 105-142056-68
A review of subject's file shows that your investigation has failed to definitely establish subject's residence address. You will be expected to furnish this phase of the investigation expeditious attention.

Recent information has been received through news media that some of the subjects designated as key activists have participated in the violence which has seized some of the Nation's universities. It should not be necessary for the Bureau to rely on such media for this information. This points out the immediate need for close, day-to-day intensified coverage of key activists and other leading agitators who are assuming leading roles in the new left. It will be necessary for each office in whose territory a key activist resides to assure that sufficient coverage is available to cover their movements and to know their whereabouts at all times. Where informant coverage is not deemed sufficient to accomplish this, it will be necessary to conduct continuing surveillances if such can be done without jeopardizing the investigation or resulting in embarrassment to the Bureau.

On developing information that the subject is traveling to another field division, it will be necessary to advise the Bureau and appropriate offices of such travel in a manner consistent with the urgency of the situation. It will be your responsibility to follow activities of the subject as closely as possible while he is in a travel status by issuing such instructions to other field divisions as may be necessary to effect this coverage. When evidence of pending travel abroad is received, it should be handled in accordance with existing Bureau instructions relating to the travel of subversives. The Bureau should be apprised of this travel promptly and the information incorporated in an LHM.

In addition to the above, you should conduct an investigation into the subject's financial activities to develop, among other things, his source of income and the source of funds available to him for his travels. A continuing investigation should be conducted in this regard.

You should also consider the use of telephone toll checks as an aid in determining his contacts. A specific request for authority to make such checks should be made of the Bureau prior to conducting this phase of the investigation.

Letter to SAC, Cincinnati
RE: CARL PRESTON OGLESBY, JR.
105-142056

In evaluating this case, you should bear in mind that one of your prime objectives should be to neutralize him within the new left movement. The Bureau will entertain recommendations of a counterintelligence nature to accomplish this end. You should, therefore, promptly furnish your suggestions as to how this might be accomplished. Take no positive action, however, until you have received specific Bureau approval.

The Bureau will not accept perfunctory attention being given to this investigation. It must be aggressive and pursued with imagination. All reporting must be prompt and pertinent information must be submitted to the Bureau in a form that can be disseminated to interested Government agencies.

NOTE:

Oglesby was designated a key activist in reBuairtel because of his leadership in the SDS. A review of his file has been made as a result of recent events on college campuses throughout the Nation which indicates a growing militancy on the part of the new left. The Cincinnati Office is being furnished with the above observations concerning this investigation in order that a more aggressive approach may be taken with regard to the inquiry and to assure that the Bureau is fully apprised of the subject's activities.

CI 100-15928

This paper protests the fact that Antioch College has a Defense Department contract and makes the following recommendations:

- a. that the college in the future enter into no contracts with the Defense Department.
- b. that the college begin immediately an earnest and open search for ways to terminate the existing contracts as quickly as possible.
- c. that the President make a public pronouncement that Antioch will never again enter into such agreements with the Defense Department, and that the community can rest assured that this be official binding policy.
- d. that the college carefully assess its resources and re-define its role in the greater social context of a changing and troubled America.

Subject was among the authors of this paper.

On April 18, 1968, CI T-6 advised that the Committee Against Defense Research (CADRE) became defunct at Antioch College during the early part of 1968.

On April 27, 1968, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed as follows:

On April 27, 1968, the Atlanta Alliance For Peace sponsored a demonstration which began in the block where a Government office building is located, on Peachtree Street between 7th and 8th Streets, in Atlanta, Georgia. Pickets totalling in number 201 marched from one p.m. to two p.m. in front of the building, between 7th and 8th Streets, carrying signs protesting United States involvement in the war in Vietnam.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

A source advised that the Black Panther Party for Self Defense (BPPSD) was formed by HUEY PERCY NEWTON, Minister of Defense, and BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, Chairman, in December, 1966, as a militant black nationalist political organization to combat "police brutality," to unite militant black youth, and to determine the destiny of black communities. The political philosophy was taken from writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of Communist China and black militant writers.

In March, 1968, the name of the organization was changed to Black Panther Party (BPP).

The official BPP publication, "The Black Panther Party - Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates use of guns and guerrilla tactics in their violent revolutionary program to end oppression of black people,

On February 17, 1968, ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, Minister of Information, announced merger of the BPP and Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and bestowed title of Minister of Justice, BPP, upon H. RAP BROWN, Chairman of SNCC.

SNCC is a militant Negro organization which preaches black supremacy.

NEWTON, aforementioned, is incarcerated in the Alameda County Jail, Oakland, California, awaiting trial on charge of murder of an Oakland police officer.

Headquarters of BPP and Huey P. Newton Defense Fund are located at 4421 Grove Street, Oakland, California.

NOTE:

Oglesby, who is on the Security Index, was a former leader in the SDS. At the present time, he is in a leadership capacity in various antiwar activities and has traveled to foreign countries and associated with communists in the U. S. and abroad. In view of his leadership position in the New Left movement, it is believed essential that the Cincinnati Office be authorized to contact the Ohio Bell Telephone Company to request review of long distance toll call records concerning subject's contacts. Grand Jury proceedings to obtain these records not feasible due to sensitive nature of investigation.

Q. of the uncertain candidate

California P&F tabs

Oglesby for veep

By JUDY BATTON

SACRAMENTO — The California Peace & Freedom party may have picked a vice presidential candidate last Saturday (August 24).

And then again, it may not have.

Meeting here for a combined state council meeting and official state convention, California P&F activists chose Carl Oglesby, 32 year old New Left theoretician and author of "Containment and Change," as the second man for their ticket, which has Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver in the top slot. There is, however, a catch — in addition to Oglesby's age, which like Cleaver's is under the legal limit required to assume the office if elected. Oglesby, former head of Students for a Democratic Society, has told P&F he will have to get permission from SDS's National Interim Committee before he can become Cleaver's running mate.

STANDBY PICKED

Oglesby's personal inclination is to run, but he is obviously concerned about not breaking ties with the SDSers who put total emphasis on local community organizing. So the decision is up to NIC, and final word on Oglesby's availability must come before Tuesday (Sept. 3), the last day on which P&Fers can report their choice of candidates to Secretary of State Frank Jordan's office.

In case Oglesby is scratched last Saturday's meeting chose a substitute candidate, Peggy

CARL OGLESBY

Still deciding ...

Terry of Chicago's JOIN Community Union, who satisfies the Constitutional age minimum.

The vice presidential choice was the main issue at the Sacramento meeting, which was initially scheduled for two days but was adjourned after one when the nearly 100 P&Fers found they seemed to have relatively little to say to each other even though most of them acknowledged there was a lot that had to be said.

Others contending for the vice presidential position were Southern California P&F activist Farrel Broslawsky and YIP-PEE leader Jerry Rubin, in addition to Hesh Kaplan and Brian Heron, two P&Fers whose names were put up as token gestures.

At issue was primarily the question of constituency.

Oglesby, who had his initial backing from members of the Independent Socialist Club, was seen as appealing to student activists and intellectuals; Mrs. Terry, the Radical Caucus choice, to poor whites, Rubin, who was Cleaver's choice in Ann Arbor, to hippies and the drop-outs, and Broslawsky to the bulk of the 71,531 persons already registered in the party in California.

It took six ballots to give Oglesby a majority vote. Broslawsky had the plurality on the first, with 25 votes to 21 for Oglesby, 17 for Mrs. Terry and nine for Rubin.

Even though Broslawsky won more votes than Mrs. Terry in the semi-final count, a separate vote was taken to determine the substitute for Oglesby, and Broslawsky, who has been outspoken in his criticism of sectarianism in the party and was said to hold "a minority view", was defeated when most of the Oglesby supporters gave their votes to Mrs. Terry.

It is expected Oglesby may be the vice presidential candidate of P&F groupings in other states, especially New York.

TENSIONS BARED

Secretary of State Jordan last week refused to put Cleaver's name on the ballot on the grounds the Panther leader is too young. The same will undoubtedly be true of Oglesby. San Francisco attorney Stuart Weinberg has announced the ballot ban will be challenged in court.

The nature of last weekend's gathering—plus some strong reactions to developments at the national P&F convention held two weeks ago in Ann Arbor, Mich.—created an atmosphere of tension that manifested itself alternately in nervous humor and desperate appeals.

The meeting itself reflected the somewhat schizophrenic nature of the P&F structure. It was the job of the new party's official state convention—composed of the party's candidates and their appointees—to adopt a platform and choose candidates. A meeting of the state council was called for the same day to ensure the decisions would be made by the P&F movement, which is supposed to be more representative of the registrants, and not by the candidates alone.

Debate last Saturday about exactly who constituted the movement and who the party demonstrated the confusion in P&F ranks about the function of those two elements, and, indeed, about the function of electoral and non-electoral activity as well.

One result of the Ann Arbor gathering—and Cleaver's nomination of Rubin—has been the beginnings of a YIPPEE-oriented group within P&F, which issued a paper last Saturday claiming that "before being sanctified by the California Election Code last Jan. 2, we were in the business of creating the Peace & Freedom Movement, and electoral activity—the Peace & Freedom Party—was seen as an organizing tool, valid only in so far as it developed the Peace & Freedom movement . . ."

Another point of view was also expressed in a paper written by Mike Schon, head of the Speech Department at the California Institute of Technology and first P&F state chairman.

ANOTHER VIEW

"Some months ago," Schon wrote, "we registered many thousands of people for Peace & Freedom. Whether we like it or not, we did not register them in a 'movement', we registered them in a political party. These thousands of people for the most part wanted to be able to go to the polls in November and be able to vote for real candidates who might credibly be able to serve if elected."

Although a significant number of people agree with Schon's perspective, most P&F activists find themselves somewhere between the two, and facing a national campaign whose direction is undetermined. The overwhelming bulk of Cleaver's supporters were shocked at his choice of Rubin as his running mate, and are unsure exactly what Cleaver's relationship to P&F will be.

The Sacramento meeting also:

- Chose Los Angeles P&F activist Jack Weinberg as state chairman.

- Adopted as official the organizing principles passed at the March Richmond convention and ratified locally.

- Officially chose Cleaver as the presidential nominee.

- Chose a slate of 40 electors for the November ballot.

RE: ROBERT SCHEER

ROBERT SCHEER, 6468 Benvenue Avenue, Oakland, California, is employed as Editor-in-Chief of "Ramparts" magazine, 495 Beach Street, San Francisco, California.

"Ramparts" in a letter to subscribers dated May 1, 1968, announced that beginning June 1, 1968, it would be published biweekly at a yearly subscription price of $15. In this letter "Ramparts" described itself as follows: "...the first national publication to consistently reveal the ribbon of lies supporting America's involvement in Vietnam; we stripped the curtain from America's 'invisible government' by exposing CIA's unlicensed intrusion into our domestic lives; we dared to write about the applications of the Catholic Church's political power; we warned, years before the Kerner report, that white racism was the base of America's racial problems; we blasted away at the corroded institutions of Cold War liberalism.

" 'Ramparts' is now the largest left-of-center commercial magazine in the history of the United States..."

SCHEER was a unsuccessful candidate for Congress from the Seventh Congressional District in California in 1966. During the campaign, he was actively supported by various Communist Party (CP) clubs in the San Francisco area and had
